NEW PARKWAY IS BEING PLANNED BY COMMISSION

Would Encircle City About Two Miles Outside Present Park Boulevard—Discuss "Galloway Parkway."

A new parkway, to encircle the city about two miles outside of the present city limits and the present park boulevard, is being planned by the park commission. The suggestion is that of Abo Goodman, a member of the commission, who has had tentative plans drawn showing the proposed location. It is proposed to have the roadway 250 feet wide and to make the new parkway in a general way conform to the scheme of the present parkway. The plans have been informally discussed by Mr. Goodman with members of a number of the civic clubs and will be taken up for special discussion at the regular meeting of the city club next Saturday. The club's committee on city planning has cordially endorsed the general plans and has suggested that the county commission should be asked to co-operate with the city park commission in the matter and secure the right-of-way immediately, before the territory to be traversed is further subdivided or improved. Otherwise, it is feared much of the right-of-way would have to be acquired at a high cost, while at present probably most of the land needed could be secured without cost in view of the enhancement of the value of adjacent property when the new parkway is built. It is not contemplated that the work could be done for several years. The park commissioners have invited those interested in changing the name of the old park boulevard system to the Galloway parkway, in honor of the memory of the late Robert Galloway, to present their views at the December meeting of the commission. This meeting probably will be held on the second Tuesday in the month. It was not supposed that there would be any opposition to the proposal, but considerable objection is said to have developed among residents of the parkway, and for that reason the park commissioners have deferred action until all who are interested may be heard at a public meeting.

MANY MILLS RUNNING.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 27.—Many mills in the Pittsburgh district including numbers of those affected by the steel strike, were in operation today, workers and managers manifesting no disposition to observe the holiday. Relief work centered in the movement to provide babies in strikers' families with milk, the women's committee, it was stated, having been reinforced by a number of persons hitherto not connected with the strike.

NEW SIGNALS PROVEN.

PARIS, Nov. 27. (Havas).—Successful tests of a new system of railway signaling based on the principle of wireless telegraphy were carried out yesterday in the presence of Albert Claville, minister of public works.

AMUSEMENTS

Al G. Field's Minstrels.

Memphis is minstrel show hungry. A large portion of the populace had appetites for minstrelsy satiated by the performance of A. G. Field's organization Wednesday night at the New Lyric theater. It was a varied and satisfying feast without doubt, and kept the packed house in good humor throughout.

If any criticism on the performance is to be made it is that the show starts with a snap and a bang, then sags in the middle, only to whip up to high speed again at the finish. The first part is novel and the chorus work the best heard here in years. Jack Richards, of the vocalists, is featured. His high velocity tones and pleasing stage presence won for him the most approval. His rendition of "I'm For- ever Blowing Bubbles," even though old, being his best number. Elton Crepeau's deep baritone, however, and Billy Church's bell-like tenor run Richards close seconds.

Funnymakers do not run up to old Al G. Field form, but Johnny Healy is here and that's one thing to be thankful for. Billy Beard also returns with a new monologue, and Lassie White and Jimmie Cooper round out the negro delineators premier batting lists.

A burlesque racing skit and a wood and frog scene, especially the latter, show up the show a bit, but the closing burlesque on grand opera more than makes up for any previous shortcomings.

The castle scene where the treasure of Old Gaspard, or whatever his name was, in "Chimes of Normandy," was composed of demolitions of inspiring whisky instead of gold pieces, was admirably staged and vigorously endorsed by post-July sufferers and what seemed to be an antiprohibitionist audience, judging from the applause.

There is just enough of the old-style minstrel show in Al G. Field's offering for 1936 to please those who remember "Don Quixley," Dan Quinlan and hosts of others, to say nothing of "Uncle Al" himself. There is enough of the new to satisfy the novelty lover.

The only thing lacking in the presence of "Uncle Al" himself, "The Old Gentleman" has been the best of health during the past few weeks.

Long may he be spared to send Memphis additional cause for Thanksgiving annually on Turkey day and give to jaded nerves and sensibilities a jolly crew of jesters.

"Who, when things seem dark and kinda' blue, Will lift a cheerful note to you?"

Like Al G. Field. Capacity houses are indicated by the advance seat sale for the balance of the week. Two matinees, Thanksgiving and Saturday, besides the night performance, are included in the engagement. NED COURTNEY.

Orpheum.

Sallie Fisher, the popular star of light opera, has returned to the stage with a charming vehicle from the gifted pen of Clara Kummer, who has already several great triumphs to her credit in "Good Gracious Annabelle," "A Successful Calamity" and "He Caim, Camella." The success achieved by Miss Fisher was as complete as it was spontaneous and overnight made her a bill-topper supreme.

No less artistic producer than Charles Dillingham arranged the details for Miss Fisher's re-entry to stardom. His was the fine master hand which provided the superb staging and the ideal cast. Every part is perfectly played and it is not the old-fashioned star trying to present a sketch with a lot of mediocre actors. John Hogan, who plays the parson, was recently in "Bunker Bean" and before that he distinguished himself in "Ben Hur" and in "Rebecca of Sunny Brook Farm." He played the lead with Ethel Barrymore and is essentially a student of the drama and one of our most promising young leading men.

May Ellison, who has made a great personal success in the character part of the village spinster, has heretofore distinguished herself as a dancer and singer in some of Mr. Dillingham's musical shows, having played in "The Old Town," "Watch Your Step" and "The Country Girl."

KING WILL APPEAR.

ROME, Nov. 27.—King Victor Emmanuel will open parliament next Monday, according to announcement here. There has been some uncertainty as to whether he would appear on this occasion because of the supposed attitude of socialist deputies.

J. Rowlett Paine, Horace Johnson Have Close Call

Mayor-elect J. Rowlett Paine and Horace Johnson, city commissioner-elect, had a narrow escape from serious injury Wednesday night at 6:45 o'clock, when Mr. Paine's Hupmobile No. 21,909, which he was driving, was crashed into by a big Mitchell, No. 32135 Mississippi, at Union avenue and Waldron boulevard. The heavier car smashed the left rear side of the light Hup, but did not injure the occupants. A fire was torn from the Mitchell.

Detectives Jimmy Taylor and Edward Clark went on a run to the scene of the accident, where they arrested O. (Shorty) Myers, 1245 Linden avenue, driver of the Mitchell. "Shorty," who formerly drove the police patrol, evidently still thought his vehicle had the right of way, according to the explanation of the accident given by the mayor-elect and Mr. Johnson.

OIL-BURNING RAILWAY ENGINE SHOWN FRENCH

PARIS, Nov. 27. (By Associated Press).—The first locomotive on a French railroad to use oil as fuel was sent out as an experimental train Tuesday and hauled a heavy train with complete success. It is announced that railroads in this country have planned to alter their engines so as to use oil fuel instead of coal and that 200 locomotives will be thus changed.

Charges Japanese Violated Clause

CORNELLE MERTENS.

Cornelle Mertens, delegate from Belgium to the international labor conference, has made the statement that the Japanese government has attempted to prevent workers from organizing labor unions, and that Japan's methods in choosing labor delegates to the convention violated the provisions of the peace treaty and the right of free association. Other delegates have voiced similar protests.

U. S. CAPITAL IDLE ON THANKSGIVING DAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Thanksgiving day was observed generally in Washington today with government departments closed and many officials absent. Secretary Daniels and many high naval officials attended the navy championship football game here, but other cabinet officers who were in town had no special plans for the day. Delegates to the international labor conference only partially observed Thanksgiving day. They convened at the usual hour, but with the understanding that they would adjourn early in the afternoon. A full holiday for them was regarded as impracticable in view of their determination to close the conference Saturday, but the suggestion of observing the day in any manner gained little support. The only American delegate to the conference has no vote because of the position of the United States before the league of nations, and the representatives of other countries saw no reason for joining in the day's celebration.

NEGRO SLAYER BROUGHT TO BIRMINGHAM JAIL

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 27.—Edgar Caldwell, negro ex-sergeant at Camp McClellan, sentenced to die at Aniston Dec. 5 for the killing of Cecil Linton, street car conductor last December, is in the Jefferson county jail, having been brought here for safekeeping, following denial of a writ of habeas corpus, asked by the negro's attorneys. Judge W. L. Grubb, yesterday afternoon in federal district court, granted the negro a stay of execution and a certificate of probable cause, giving Caldwell an opportunity to appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals.

MAN ESCAPES FROM BOLIVAR; HANGS HIMSELF

BROWNSVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 27.—A man named DUNCAN, said to have been an escaped inmate of the state hospital at Bolivar, hanged himself Wednesday night in the city jail at this place. Mayor Keathley met the man wandering in the street Wednesday night, soaking wet and took him to the city hall where he was made to dry his clothes. He was pinned in a cell for the night but in the morning was found hanging dead.

ENGINE IS DERAILED IN ARKANSAS; TRAINS HELD

HOXIE, Ark., Nov. 27. (Sp.)—The engine pulling No. 17, Missouri Pacific Hot Springs-St. Louis passenger train, left the track near Knobels this morning. Other passenger trains are being detained. Wires to the wreck are down but meager reports are that no one was injured.

FLU RAGING AGAIN.

MADRID, Nov. 27.—Influenza is again epidemic at Linares, about 50 miles northeast of Granada, dispatches stating that there are at present more than 2,000 ill from the disease in the city.

Moving Pictures

Strand.

In order to supply the locale for the island scenes in "Male and Female," founded on Sir James M. Barrie's famous play, "The Admirable Crichton," Cecil B. DeMille, producer of this latest Paramount-Artcraft picture, now playing at the Strand theater, arranged to film this part of the action on Santa Cruz island in the Pacific ocean, just off the California coast. But a tropical island was needed. This did not worry the resourceful director, who had great loads of foliage and tropical plants transplanted, so that the American island resembled a spot in the South seas. This is but one example of the lavish scale upon which Barrie's play has been adapted to the screen, though the delightfully human touch of the distinguished dramatist has been fully retained.

The charming story of Crichton, the English butler who became his master's master and almost his son-in-law when a private yacht was wrecked on a desert isle, is interpreted by a great cast of players.

Majestic.

For a while residents and business men of Chicago got quite curious over a new brand of soap which was advertised extensively on billboards all over the city. A man couldn't go down the street without finding a handbill with the words "Thirteen Soap—Unlucky for 1313" printed in large letters on the top of the sheet.

After a while it came to light that Bryant Washburn, Paramount-Artcraft star, and his company, directed by Lou-aid Crisp, were there taking exterior scenes for the star's new picture, "It Pays to Advertise," starting today at the Strand, and that all this advertising was put up to be filmed in the picture.

Princess.

One of the most important bookings of the season for the Princess theater, is "When Bessie Went Dry," which will be the attraction at this theater today only.

This superfeature is a picture version of Charles Neville Buck's famous novel of the same title. It has its scenes in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky, and the characters of the picture are those hardy mountaineers who have never known fear. It is a red-blooded story, full of intensity and action.

SMALLPOX GROWING.

TORONTO, Nov. 27.—More than 800 cases of smallpox in mild form in Ontario have been reported to the ministry of health. About one-half of these are in Toronto.
